UPK Mixed Delivery Planning Grant – Request for Data

Applicant Information

Lead Agency: Santa Cruz County Superintendent of Schools - Childhood Advisory Council

Entity Type: LPC

RFD Responses

- 1. Describe how the lead agency will partner with grantees of the UPK P&I Grant (both COEs and LEAs) to ensure that activities conducted under this grant meet community needs for UPK in a mixed-delivery system:

This UPK Mixed Delivery planning grant was awarded to Santa Cruz County Office of Education (SSCOE). The county's Local Planning Council administered by SCCOE, as well the Resource and Referral (R & R). SCCOE holds UPK Planning & Implementation Grant and Early Educator Teacher Development Grant as well as other workforce and inclusion grants. SCCOE, including our Superintendent Faris Sabbah, has a deep commitment to early childhood education programs providing a rich soil from which to grow the collaborations and partnerships supporting integration and coordination of information and services. SCCOE holds standing leadership meetings with LEA's and Early Childhood Administrators and Educators. Superintendents meetings include all LEA's in the county at various administrative positions; Superintendents, Assistant Superintendents. The Early Childhood meetings include; local Childhood Advisory Council, Subsidized Programs Consortium Meetings and the Inclusion Early Education Early Education Expansion Program Leadership. These meetings are most often structured to allow two way communication and networking amongst the groups. SCCOE will now build on these relationships to create formalized workgroups for planning and later implementation in support of the county's strong mixed delivery system. Bringing LEA leadership and ECE leadership, along with Teachers and FCCH providers together will be the next step in setting up the workgroup. Stipends will be considered for participation by eligible stakeholders. In addition SCCOE has access to valuable sources of data to support decision with in the workgroup; LPC priorities report, Head Start and CDE Subsidized programs data and needs assessments, results from various workforce and stakeholder surveys as well as ongoing input from families though the SCCOE's Child Development Resource Center. SCCOE will consider hiring additional staff to support the coordination, outreach and reporting needed to fulfill the grants requirements. We feel confident we have the structure and participation to provide the needed variety of voices and perspectives for this collaboration.

Describe how the lead agency will partner to plan, align, coordinate, and conduct the activities described below with all LEAs in the county who are grantees of the UPK P&I Grant:

- 2. Plan for the provision of high-quality UPK options for three- and four-year-old children through a mixed-delivery system that ensures access to high-quality full- and part-day learning experiences, coordinated services, and referrals for families to access health and social-emotional support services. Indicators of quality shall meet California Education Code EC Section 8203 and be regulated by Title 5:

Santa Cruz County Office of Education is not a direct service provider for programs for three and four year old children. SCCOE does however play an active role in working with all early care and education entities to ensure agencies and individual providers receive timely notification of funding opportunities. SCCOE works with these agencies as well on strategies to recruit families for enrollment in programs. Information and technical assistance is provided by SCCOE through the Childhood Advisory Council (CAC) Subsidized Program Consortium, Monday Morning Childcare Briefing, and Child Development Resource Center(CDRC). These standing meetings assist local agencies in taking advantage of all opportunities for increasing slots and services. Head Start and CA State Services that receive subsidized funds are required to conduct a needs assessment and take action to refer and follow up on family support needed in health, social emotional, and social services areas, including food insufficiency and housing. Speakers, focus topics and discussions within the forums are valuable, many recently have been on topics of Trauma, Mental Health Stress and Coping. The networking that takes place in these meetings are a rich catalyst for coordination. In addition to the meetings that SCCOE convenes, staff from the SCCOE CAC participates in other county wide efforts to coordinate and align services. These meetings include the Children's Network (United Way), Thrive by Five (First 5),and South County COVID Triage. CDRC refers to families for early care and education services. This includes letting families know about the many childcare and preschool options, as well as Transitional Kindergarten locations and enrollment contacts. CDRC maintains a north and south county office. The south county office is housed within the Go Kids Inc. complex which administers the Santa Cruz County Alternative Payment Program. APP provides funding to family child care providers and center based programs to serve income eligible families.

- 3. Partner with LEAs to plan for increasing inclusion of children with exceptional needs in UPK:

Santa Cruz COE has been active in promoting inclusion of children with exceptional needs in early care and education for many years. The multi year Inclusion Early Education Expansion Grant Program provides regular Leadership meetings which includes leadership from CSPP and CCTR, APP, Head Start, Migrant Head Start, and private programs. South and North County SELPA, SPIN (Special Education Information Network) and Regional Centers are members of this team. This group will continue to meet. The following training has been offered to support inclusion efforts; Universal Design for Learning, Beginning Together, Inclusive Teaching Pyramid, Teaching Pyramid and Trauma Informed Care, and Inclusion Works!. Coaching, teaming and administrative support has been offered for these efforts. Support for understanding IEPs was offered. ACES Aware training has been offered both in English and Spanish to providers. Surveys to instructional staff to assess their confidence and needs for providing inclusive services have been conducted, informing the topics, and types of professional development needed. Recently the SCCOE Child Development Programs division offered workshops on working with children with Autism and children with Speech and Language delay in response to teacher requests. Data is collected annually through this grant on numbers of children with IFSP and IEP being served and the types of disability of the enrolled children. Clarity and streamlining of referral, diagnosis and services process has been a prioritized request from child development programs. In response SCCOE developed a referral flow chart which has been shared to illustrate the referral process. Referral forms were shared by Head Start with the group and then adapted to one that can be used by all programs. These documents have been shared with programs and will be posted on the updated SCCOE website.

4. Partner with LEAs to plan for assisting existing and aspiring UPK site supervisors, teachers, and other support staff in identifying and accessing local workforce pathway programs, including financial support programs, to increase the number of site supervisors, teachers, and other support staff who have the required credentials and degrees:

As part of the Mixed Delivery effort, Santa Cruz County Office will continue to offer the extensive support for all levels of UPK staff to obtain and advance on career pathways. The Child Development Programs through the Workforce Development Pathway Grant has assessed workforce needs through their AB212 assessments provided the following information to guide workforce pathway efforts; 90% of the workforce for ECE in the county are English Language Learners with first language of Spanish. 80% of teachers work in a Bilingual child care/preschool while 20% work in an English only setting. Spanish language support is always offered in training by SCCOE, either by dual sessions or simultaneous translation. SCCOE has provided reimbursement to ECE providers for general education courses, books and tuition as well as stipends for credit completion. Leadership from the Child Development Programs Department serve on the Cabrillo Advisory Board. Offerings starting this year allowing more access to classes. Information on additional options for education has been shared with programs and teachers. SCCOE maintains a partnership with San Jose State and CSUMB to support further advancement in units. Development of English at the level required for success in general education courses has been a significant barrier for many of our teachers, therefore linking teachers to ESL classes either at district Adult Education level or through Community College is critical. The SCCOE has a credentialing office that is available to calls and appointments to provide direct support for individuals in obtaining and renewing credentials and permits. Retention needs to be addressed as well when discussing workforce. The SCCOE in partnership with ECE agencies it serves have attempted to address this through numerous support strategies. SCCOE partners with the Santa Cruz County Workforce Development Board in recruiting individuals to consider early childhood as a career.

5. Partner with LEAs to plan for providing outreach services and enrollment support for families of three- and four-year-old children to meet family needs and provide those children with high-quality full- and part-day learning experiences:

The Child Development Resource Center (CDRC) R & R in Santa Cruz County is administered by SCCOE. This provides tremendous involvement, collaboration and alignment to the various services described in the questions above. CDRC has bilingual staff available to provide program options and contacts to families calling to find out about services. The ECE programs collaborations mentioned in the other questions are provided with posters containing tear off cards with CDRC phone number to access. CDRC staff participate in community events and meetings to further provide this information. The CDRC also has contact information on the SCCOE website. What to look for in finding quality care is shared with families. The program director of CDRC attends various collaborative meetings and provides input on how CDRC can support. Recently CDRC engaged in refreshing their outreach materials and created an outreach plan with the support of a Social Media Publicity company. A new website with some improved application features will support CDRC by collecting input from early childhood programs annually on how to improve services. These suggestions are included in their planning. Families on an ongoing basis provide feedback to CDRC on successes and frustrations in obtaining early care and education services. CDRC also participates in recruitment of family childcare homes by supporting and encouraging individuals to obtain licensure required for operations. CDRC leadership interface with the Department of Social Services, ensuring programs receive timely notifications of regulations and guidance.

6. Describe in detail how the applicant will partner with Tribes to reflect family and Tribal community needs, as sovereign nations, in the planning and implementation of the UPK mixed-delivery system:

SCCOE will reach out to the two tribal groups in the area and invite representatives to join the Mixed Delivery workforce group. The Amah Mutsun Tribal Band composed of descendants of the Ohlone People oversees a land trust in the county and has a website with board members listed. We will reach out to this group and these individuals. South county area has the Pajaro Valley Ohlone Indian Council which has members from the Chumash, Salinan, Rumsen, Chippewa, Apache, Esselen, Navajo, Yaqui and Lakota. Tribal activities have been elevated in the county through various dance groups including the Ohlone Dances that frequently perform and participate in community activities. The Mixed Delivery workforce provides an opportunity to connect with tribal peoples of our county and ensure early care and education services are meeting the needs of their communities. Beyond invitation to the workgroup SCCOE will explore hosting focus groups, attending existing meetings of the tribes and other measures to ensure connection.
